Production runs more efficiently with

TRI-FLOW™

free running and reduced contamination

Aberdeen Meat Marketing Ltd. is finding production in its abattoir runs more efficiently since the introduction of Tri-Flow six months ago.

Processing around 800 cattle and 200 sheep per week, Aberdeen Meat Marketing's customers include retailers, wholesalers, some high street multiples and exports to France, Germany and Italy.

Tri-Flow with P.T.F.E. is an advanced penetrating lubricant with a unique formulation helping to ensure excellent performance even in the most arduous conditions. It has the capability to displace dirt and moisture and replaces it with a protective layer, keeping surfaces free and reducing friction.

"Using Tri-Flow on the hoists' wire ropes has resulted in less frequent replacement because Tri-Flow helps to keep the ropes flexible and free running," says the abattoir's Maintenance Manager.

"We are finding Tri-Flow is able to lubricate and clean simultaneously on the hide stripper, because of the level of contamination, normal lubricants only helped to clog the action further. With Tri-Flow, the stripper keeps much cleaner and the dirt simply falls away, which is more hygienic and makes cleaning down much easier."

We are now using Tri-Flow on a diversity of applications, such as on the packaging machinery where the strapping machine becomes clogged with fine plastic dust from the straps. Tri-Flow is providing the same benefits: thorough lubrication and cleaning away the contamination.

"There are cheaper lubricants available" adds the Maintenance Manager, "but Tri-Flow does the job so effectively and with just a light application it penetrates well and is proving very cost effective in its benefits."

Tri-Flow offers better performance, reduced contamination, freer running and better penetration.
